LIVING SPACES – CALL FOR ENTRY

Living Spaces 2005

Living Spaces 2005 (www.livingspacesdesign.com) is the second incarnation of one of ICFE's freshest and most lauded offsite events. Presented in Williamsburg, New York's most innovative art and design community, Living Spaces will again showcase the best in cutting-edge American design not necessarily intended for mass production.

This year's show will be curated by Dave Alhadeff, owner and founder of The Future Perfect, and designer Jason Miller.

Living Spaces will take place in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, during the International Contemporary Furniture Fair, May 14-17, 2005. There will be an evening event on Monday, May 16th.

Entry Guidelines:

We are seeking innovative and unique work for the home. Any and all domestic objects will be considered: furniture, lighting, home accessories, textiles, etc. Submitted work should be real and possess a conceptual integrity. Work should be made for contemporary culture without disregarding traditional ideas or typologies. Work should be witty or have a sense of playfulness. Above all, the work must be honest in its goals and execution.

What to Submit:

- All submissions must be received by mail and must include:
- A completed copy of the attached form and duplicate as necessary for additional submissions.
- A CD with 300 DPI images of each piece submitted.
- One 8x10 print out of each piece being submitted. Please name them as you refer to them on the CD and on the application form.
- If submitting work that has not yet been created please submit renderings or sketches.
- Do not submit actual prototypes.

Fee:

NONE

Dates:

All submissions must be received by Monday April 4, 2005. Selections will be formally announced April 8, 2005.

If Accepted:

You are responsible for delivery and pickup to and from the show location.
Details to follow upon acceptance to the show.
